Lexington, December 25, 1809.

THE subscriber who has been many years a teacher of languages and mathematics, wish to purchase in the state of Kentucky, to which he proposes moving, a small well improved farm in a genteel populous neighbourhood, where permanent employment may be expected. He wishes to live in the country, and proposes, assisted by his daughters, who can teach needle work, grammar, geography &c. to teach the children of both sexes in his neighbourhood. In addition to many useful & ornamental branches of education, young ladies will be instructed in the culture of silk, if mulberry trees are to be found in the neighbourhood.
Those who may be interested, are requested to direct to him post paid at Limestone, where he proposes to call on his way down the river.

THOS. GLISSON.
KEENE'S LIVERY STABLE.
THE public are respectfully informed, that those Stables are now occupied by the subscriber, who begs leave to assure them that he will at all times pay the most strict attention to horses left in his care—His extensive knowledge and known skill in horses, are sufficient to ensure him the esteem of his friends.

to accommodate those who please to call on him.
January 20, 1809.

FOR SALE.
A VALUABLE AND WELL IMPROVED FARM, LYING on Henry's mill road, only four miles from Lexington, containing 150 acres of first rate land well timbered, and plentifully watered. The improvements on this farm are convenient and valuable, consisting of a large and commodious dwelling house, and every requisite out building—a good still house, barn, stables &c.—Fruit trees in great variety and abundance. About seventy acres of the land cleared, and in handsome order for cultivation.
A further description is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed the land will be viewed by those wishing to purchase.
A general warranty deed will be made the purchaser, and possession had the first of January next. Application to be made to the subscriber in Lexington at the Livery stable.
RICHARDSON ALLEN.
June 4th, 1810.

COME all you lovers of good stones,
Aloft your buildings raise,
Come unto me to purchase them,
And I will you all praise.

Good stone I always have on hand,
Supply'd you all can be,
However great be your demand;
Come friends, come unto me.

I have dug wells, you all do know,
I can godd water find,
In spite of patent laws I'll shew
For nought I will be kind.

In all the branches of my trade,
So punctual I will be
It never shall by one be said
"Old Shaw, has cheated me."

JOHN R. SHAW,
Electronist, Well-Digger,
And Stone Quarrier.
LEXINGTON, April 9, 1810.

FANCY CHAIRS.
WILLIAM CHALLENGE respectfully informs the public, that he has commenced the FANCY CHAIR making business, in the house lately occupied by Mr. William Huston, on Main street, three doors below Main Cross street, where he will carry on the above business with neatness and taste—he flatters himself that from the long experience that he has had both in London and New York, that his work

Gallatin, are requested to settle their accounts, or they will after due notice, (if not attended to) be forced.
Main street Lexington, 2d Jan'y. 1810.

IF GRATEFUL for the encouragement hitherto received, and solicited for its continuance, Mrs. Lockwood presents her acknowledgements to her friends, and informs them and the public, that her Academy is open for the reception of young ladies either as boarders or day scholars.

From the liberal patronage she has received, during her residence in Lexington, she has been induced to conclude her method beneficial—
She therefore deems it only necessary to assure those who may honor her, and their confidence that her most strenuous exertions shall not be wanting to render them every satisfaction.
* * Her terms continue as heretofore.

WOOL CARDING.
THE subscriber informs the public that he has erected a WOOL CARDING MA-CHINE in the town of Winchester, near the public Seminary, and is now in complete operation. Those who may favor him with their custom may depend on its being done in the best manner, and on the shortest notice—his prices will be the same as are charged in Lexington by those in the same business.
ANSON MILLS.
June 4th, 1810.

JUST RECEIVED,
A FRESH SUPPLY OF ORIGINAL
FAMILY MEDICINES,
PREPARED BY
RICHARD LEE & SON,

WHICH have been in high estimation and a neral use throughout the U States, for upwards of ten years. And, it is no inconsiderable evidence of their utility, that during the above period, numerous imitations of every article (the productions of ignorance and inexperience, urged by envy and penury) have been in-truded on the public, for a day and then perished! Others now succeed them, which in like manner are fast descending to the tomb of the Capulets; while our remedies become more generally used,
and acquire a daily accession of deserved celebrity.

Lee's Worm-Destroying Lozenges.
This medicine is superior to any ever offered to the public, being innocent and mild, certain and efficacious in its operations. Should no worms exist in the body, it will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Lee's Elixir.
A certain remedy for colds, coughs, asthma's, and particularly the whooping cough, so destructive to children.

Lee's Essence of Mustard,
So well known for the cure of rheutisms, gout, palsy, sprains, &c. &c.

Lee's Grand Restorative, Proved by long experience to be unequalled in the cure of nervous disorders, confusions, lowness of spirits, inward weakness, &c.

Lee's Anti-Bilious Pills,
For the prevention and cure of bilious and malignant fevers.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the Itch,
Which is warranted an infallible remedy
at one application.

Infallible Ague & Fever Drops.
For the cure of agues remittent and intermittent fevers.

Lee's Genuine Persian Lotion.
Celebrated for the cure of ring worms,
tetter's, &c.

Lee's Genuine Eye Water.
An effectual remedy for all diseases of the eyes.

Tooth-Ache Drops.
Which give immediate relief.

Lee's Corn Plaster.
Lee's Damask Lip Salve.

Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

The Anodyne Elixir,
For the cure of every kind of head-ache.
The Indian Vegetable Specific,
For the cure of venereal complaints.

Those medicines have come into general use, they are frequently purchased by not only Druggists, but by country store keepers, and are sold to the public, in order that the purchasers may be confident they have the original genuine Medicines; wherever they purchase they have but to observe that every article of Medicine has on the outward wrapper, the signature of the proprietors.

Michael Lee & Co.
late Richard Lee & Son
SOLD BY
SCOTT, TROTTER & Co.
LEXINGTON.

A liberal discount to those who purchase to sell again, by directing a line postpaid to Michael Lee & Co, Baltimore.

NEW GOODS.
THOMAS D. OWINGS.

HAS received in addition to his former stock of Merchandize, and is now opening a large assortment of

DRY GOODS.
Suitable for the present and approaching season.
Also, TEAS of the best quality, viz. best Gunpowder, Imperial Young Hyson, Hyson Chulon, Hyson and Congo—with an assortment of Glass Ware, Queens Ware, &c. All being bought on the most reasonable terms, will be sold unusually low for cash. Lexington, 30th Sept. 1809.

LOST OR MISLAID.
A NUMBER of valuable papers belonging to the subscriber, among which is a bond from Capt Wm. Moore, dated in 1804 for a title to 76 1/2 acres land on which I live; also a bond for £100 on Robt. Garstaphen jr. dated in 1805 executed to me, and witnessed by Wm.
Moore and Thomas Moore; likewise a bill of sale for a negro girl named Ruth, sold to me by John Minck, together with sundry receipts and fee bills. All persons are cautioned against trading for, or receiving the above papers, should they fall into the hands of any person disposed to make use of them now or hereafter.
ROBERT GARSTAPHEN.
June 8th, 1810.

WOOL CARDING.
DANIEL BRADFORD having got his Wool Cards in operation, is ready to card for such as may think proper to employ him.—
The usual quantity of grease must be sent with the wool. He keeps for sale well carded rolls at 46 cents per pound. In a few days he expects to have his spinning apparatus in motion, when yarns of any kind may be had on application.
CASH given for WOOL.
Lexington, June 9th, 1810.

NOTICE.

SIR FRANCIS BURDETT.

[The following is the letter of Sir Francis Burdett, to the Sheriff of Middlesex, calling on him for aid to resist the execution of a warrant issued by the Speaker of the House of Commons.]

"GENTLEMEN,

"In furtherance of an attempt to deprive me of my liberty, under the authority of an instrument which I know to be illegal, viz. a Warrant by the Speaker of the House of Commons, my house is, at this moment beset by a military force.

"As I am determined never to yield a voluntary obedience to an act contrary to the law, I am resolved to resist the execution of such a Warrant, by all the legal means in my power; and, as you are the Constitutional Officer appointed to protect the inhabitants of your Bailiwick from violence and oppression, from whatever quarter they may come, I make this requisition to you, Gentlemen, to furnish me with your aid, with which the laws have provided you, either by calling on the Posse Comitatus, or such other as the case and circumstances may require.

"It is for you to consider how far you may be liable, should I, by an unlawful force, acting under an unlawful authority, be taken from my house.

"I have the honor to be Gentlemen,
"Your very obedient servant,
(Signed)

"FRANCIS BURDETT."

"Piccadilly April 7, 1810."
"Matthew Wood, Esq.,
and John Atkins, Esq., Sheriff of Middlesex."

[The following letter from Sir Francis Burdett to the Speaker of the House of Commons was sent by his own son, Robert Burdett, a youth of 14, and his brother, Mr. Jones Burdett, and was accordingly delivered at 10 o'clock at night.]

"SIR,—When I was returned, in due form by the electors of Westminster, they imagined they had chosen me as their trustee in the House of Commons to maintain the laws and liberty of the land. Having accepted that trust I never will betray it.

"I have also, as a dutiful subject, taken an oath of allegiance to the king to obey his laws; and I never will consent by any act of mine, to obey any set of men, who, contrary to those laws, shall under any pretence whatsoever, assume the power of the king.

"Power and privilege are not the same thing, and ought not at any time be confounded together. Privilege is an exemption from power, and was by law secured to the third branch of the legislature, in order to protect them that they might safely protect the people; not to give them power to destroy the people.

"Your warrant, sir, I believe you know to be illegal. I know it to be so. To superior force I must submit. I will not and dare not incur the danger of continuing voluntarily to make one of any set of men who shall assume illegally the whole power of the realm, and who have no more right to take myself, or one of my constituents by force, than I or they possess to take any of those who are now guilty of this usurpation; and I would condescend to accept the meanest office that would vacate my seat, being more desirous of getting out of my present association, than other men may be desirous of getting profitably into it.

"Sir, this is not a letter in answer to a Vote of Thanks; it is in answer to a Vote of a different kind. I know not what to call it; but since you have begun this correspondence with me, I must beg you to read this my answer to those under whose orders you have commenced it.

"I remain, Sir,
"Your most obedient humble servant,
"FRANCIS BURDETT."
"Piccadilly, April 6, 1810."

On the 13th of April, Sir Francis Burdett wrote the following letter to the speaker of the House of Commons.

To the Right Hon. Charles Abbot, Speaker of the House of Commons.

"SIR—You having on or about the 9th day of April, inst. as Speaker of the House of Commons forcibly broke and entered the dwelling house of me, the undersigned Francis Burdett, situate in Piccadilly in the Parish of St. James, Westminster, in the County of Middlesex; and having also, on the said 9th of April, caused me to be apprehended, and unlawfully committed to a certain prison called his Majesty's Tower of London, and to be there imprisoned, and as yet kept and detained in prison there, without any reasonable and probable cause whatever—I do therefore, according to the form of the Statute in such case made and provided, hereby give you notice, that I shall, on or after the expiration of the calendar month, from the time of your being served with this notice, cause a bill to be filed against you in his Majesty's Court of King's Bench at Westminster, and a writ or writs to be thereupon issued out of his Majesty's said Court of King's Bench, at Westminster, against you, at my suit, for these said trespasses and false imprisonment, &c. I shall proceed against you according to law. I am, &c.

FRANCIS BURDETT.

"Dated the 12th day of April, 1810,"

At a meeting of the Inhabitants Householders, Electors of the City and Liberties of Westminster, assembled in New Palace Yard, the 17th day of April 1810.

ARTHUR MORRIS, Esq.

High Bailiff, in the Chair.

It was resolved, That we most highly approve of Sir Francis Burdett's letter to us his constituents, the subject being of the utmost importance, and the argument incontrovertible.

That Sir Francis Burdett's conduct in calling upon the Civil Power for the protection of his house against a military force, was dictated by prudence, knowledge of, and confidence in, the laws of his country.

That the House of Commons be called upon to restore to us our beloved representative; and to co-operate immediately with him, in his endeavors to procure a fair representation of the people in Parliament.

That the petition now read be adopted; that it be signed by the high bailiff and twenty five electors, and be delivered to our remaining representative, the Right Hon. Lord Cochrane, to be by him presented to the House of Commons.

That a letter be addressed to Sir Francis Burdett, expressing our full and entire approbation of the whole and every part of his conduct as a member of Parliament.

That the thanks of this meeting be given to our worthy representative, the Right Hon. Lord Cochrane, for his support of Sir Francis Burdett, during the present arduous struggle.

That the Thanks of this meeting be given to those independent members of the House of Commons, who have supported the rights of the people.

April 19.—Three Gottenburgh mails arrived this morning. The ratification of the treaty of peace between France and Sweden, was proclaimed on the 8th at Gottenburgh. The French charge des affaires left Copenhagen on the 2d for Stockholm.

The following is the only other article worth notice:

Gottenburgh, April 10.

"Our Gazette of this day contains his royal majesty's proclamation, that, from after the 24th of this month, no English goods shall be admitted in any Swedish port. It is dated Stockholm Castle, the 26th of last month, and merely excepts salt, which may be imported from all foreign ports, in all ships which do not belong to his Britannic majesty or his subjects."

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.

SPANISH AMERICA.

Yesterday arrived schr. Adventure, Armstrong, 24 days from Lagaira, and informs that on or about the 20th day of April a schr. arrived at that port from Spain, bearing dispatches to the Gov. of Carracas, with information that all Spain was in the hands of the French, except Cadiz. This news flew before the messenger, the people of Carracas, the metropolis of that part of South America, (no doubt prepared for the contingency) rose and a body of them met the messenger, seized his despatches and carried him to jail. They immediately after seized the Gov. and commander in chief at Carracas, bro't him down under a guard of 100 men and put him on board a Spanish brig lying in port, on board of which they put a few other officers and sent her off; at the same time they took up the Lt. Gov. of Carracas, and the commandant at La Guira, and 8 days after shipped them off also. The Spaniards of Carracas and La Guira, with the country round it, also Barcelona with some other towns, it was said, had declared themselves independent of all the world, with the proviso, that if Ferdinand recovered his country and throne, that they would then acknowledge him and return to their allegiance. The people have appointed a Junta, and new organized the government. The whole of this revolution was put in motion so suddenly, that they took the Gov. up in the street while walking for his pleasure not having the least suspicion of such an event, and was accomplished without the loss of a life or the spilling of blood; or any further disturbance than seizing and shipping off about 8 or 10 of the civil and military officers. After this they lay an embargo on all vessels in port, which in 8 days was taken off and the vessels suffered to depart.—The populace at first seized the schooner that brought the dispatches, and the captain of her telling a plausible story, and that he wished to stay among them, they took off the guard, and in the night the sch. slipped off.

SPANISH COLONIES.

Capt. Davis, of the Fame, from Lagaira, reports, that on the 19th April a revolution took place at Carracas. All the officers that were appointed by the Junta in Spain are sent out of the country. A brig with the captain-general, and several other officers went into Norfolk a few days since. Previous to the sailing of the Fame, accounts had been received from most parts of the province, which had readily followed the example set at Carracas. Business dull at La Guira. The duties had been reduced under the New Government to 16 1/2 per cent on imports, and 12 1/2 on exports, and the tariff also reduced. The Americans are treated very friendly and much courted by the government, who are anxious to be on amicable terms with the U. S.—Captain D. has brought a number of manifestoes, addresses &c. of the new government. Passengers in the Fame, Mr. John Hughes, of Phil'a. Don Juan Vizante Bolivar, Don Teleforo Orea, Don Juan Yriarte, Don Juan Tinveo and servants.

Extract of a letter from Lagaira, dated 1st May.

"Your vessel has been detained much longer than I expected when I last wrote you, this arose in consequence of a revolution breaking out here; and indeed I have been greatly afraid that I should never have got her away. Since the disturbance has begun with the whites mulattoes and negroes, no kind of business has been done.

"What with this and the news of a French fleet being to windward it has kept us very uneasy for fear of their paying us a visit, which has been expected, and God only knows what may be the result of the business here, for the blacks are determined to become independent with the rest, and depend on it there will be much blood shed, this is the opinion of the best informed people here."

EAST INDIES.

Captain Prince, at Salem, from Sumatra, informs that Tappanooly was destroyed Oct. 25th, by a French squadron of two frigates and a corvette, under commodore Hamlen, which had previously captured the American ship Samson, Abbot, for Liverpool. Commodore Hamlen had visited a number of Americans from the United States, with regular papers and suffered them to proceed: he considers every vessel a prize bound to or from English ports.

Newburyport, May 34.

FROM CADIZ.

The schooner Fame, Captain Hoyt, fifty four days from Cadiz, arrived at this port on Monday last. Captain Hoyt politely furnished with the following intelligence.

That it was the opinion of the British officers that Cadiz will be evacuated, as soon as the English property is removed. Fresh provisions of all kinds are exceedingly scarce and high; fresh beef, one dollar per pound; candles forty-five cents per pound; eggs one dollar per dozen; and other articles proportionably dear.

By order of the junta, vessels arriving with provisions are not suffered to depart until the provisions are landed.

The priests are daily employed in exercising the guns on the walls from ten o'clock in the morning till noon.

From the Aurora, May 28.

The ship Fair Helen, arrived at New-York on Saturday from Liverpool, bringing London papers to the 23d April, and Paris news to the 16th.

By this arrival we have advices of great interest from both G. Britain and France. It has been officially notified to general Armstrong that no vessel bearing the American flag will be admitted into any port of the continent of Europe, and that such as may be found will be confiscated.

An American vessel about to enter the Texel, destined for Amsterdam, was forbidden to enter, and all intercourse with Holland, declared to be interdicted to the American flag, of which a positive notification was given.

The vessels thus impeded had arrived in England.

The Danish government has made a similar communication, qualified in the mode, by an intimation that though the American flag will not be suffered to enter the ports of Denmark, it arises not out of any hostile dispositions on the part of Denmark, which would cheerfully countenance the fair trade of America; but that the double conviction of multiplied frauds and impositions carried on under American colours, could not be defeated by any effort of discrimination.

The principle of the duke of Cadore's letter, is declared to be adopted by all the powers of the Baltic, and American vessels would not be permitted to enter any port in that sea. The efforts of Mr. Adams, at St. Petersburg, to avert this consequence, by a strict discrimination between British covered, and real American property, had not the effect hoped for, as the difficulties and innumerable varieties of frauds rendered the detection not always practicable. Russian ports, as well as Danish and Swedish, Prussian, and the whole of the coast, will be closed against our flag.

The British government has issued an order in council in March, declaring the whole coast of Spain in a state of blockade, and that any vessel whatever found on the coast attempting to enter any port of Spain or Portugal would be made a prize of.

The marriage robe of the new Empress of France is embroidered all over with diamonds the intervals being filled with Malines lace—it is valued at 500,000 francs (nearly $100,000).

Bonaparte ought to profit by example; it was the profligacy and extravagance of the French court that brought Lewis 16th to the scaffold. He too married an Austrian princess.

The mock ceremony of Bonaparte's marriage took place at Vienna about the middle of March; the civil ceremony was to take place at the palace of St. Cloud, on the 31st of the same month and the ceremony of hypocrisy was to be consummated at Paris on the 1st April or all fool's day. The 2d April all the theatres were to be thrown open to terminate this grand farce, in which the Emperor is the leading character and by which he expects to begot issue from his own loins to make France happy. What? Happiness from the House of Lorraine!!!—Am.

Mr. Fly, an American gentleman landed at Dover yesterday morning, charged with dispatches from General Armstrong, at Paris to Pinckney, the American minister in London. This gentleman came in a neutral corn vessel, bound from Dieppe to London; he was present at the entry of Napoleon and the young Empress into Paris on Monday last whose marriage it appears was solemnized at St. Cloud on Sunday, as the guns on the coast announced on that day. He was attended by one servant, and proceeded to London immediately. Mr. Peake one of the tide surveyors of the customs, accompanied him on his journey.

London, April 13.

It is generally supposed the House of Commons will proceed this night to a Vote of Expulsion against Sir Francis Burdett. The Baronet's letter certainly appears to court that sentence; but ministers will act with their characteristic weakness, if they attempt to inflict it.

Eugene Beauharnois, the son-in-law of Bouaparte, and Viceroy of Italy, is created Prince of Venice, with a suitable apauage of one million of livres a years. It would appear that in case of failure of the Bonaparte line the crowns of France and Italy are to devolve upon him.

The reports of overtures of peace, of the revival of the kingdom of Poland, and of the journey of the emperor of Russia and King of Prussia to Paris, are repeated from various quarters in the Dutch papers.

Leiden, March 23.—The archduke Francis, brother of the empress of Austria, is to marry Maria Augusta Antoinette, Princess royal of Saxony; and will be created king of Poland.

LEXINGTON, JUNE 19, 1810.

The Fayette Circuit Court commenced its session on the 11th inst.—several culprits were brought to the bar, and two of them sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary House. George Nowland, for horse stealing, sentenced to four years confinement, and Mary M'Manes to one year's confinement, for Larceny.

Noble Junkins came forward to his trial on Friday last, on the charge of having feloniously passed counterfeit Bank notes; the jury retired but a few minutes and returned a verdict of "Not Guilty."

Junkins had been before arraigned for this offence, and a sentence of four years confinement passed on him—but a new trial being granted on some point of law; from his having always borne a good character heretofore, the Jury were induced, on the side of mercy, to grant a verdict of acquittal.

SOUTH AMERICA.

It will be seen by an article under the Philadelphia head, that part of the inhabitants of South America have at length taken a decided step in favor of independence. They have shipped off all the appointments of the Spanish Junta. This self-created junta are entirely under the controul and direction of the British government.—The officers sent from Old Spain to South America were supporters of the Inquisition, and every tyranny of priestcraft—and the experience of twenty years has in a measure proven, that no nation can be independent under the least influence of the British.

The declaration of Carracas we expect will be followed by the Spanish continent. Bonaparte who measures every political movement by possibilities, has declared "that he will acknowledge the independence of South America, if they establish themselves free from Britain"—and we have no doubt but he will really do it, as he knows they are too distant to be conquered.

Had the Junta at Cadiz been enabled to establish themselves in South America under the protection of the British government, not a single American vessel, in our opinion, would have been permitted to enter their ports. As it now is, we congratulate our fellow citizens on the probable emancipation of that country from European thralldom and the prospects of a commerce for our surplus produce and manufactures.

In the house of commons, at a late date, Mr. Canning observed, that it had been intimated by Mr. Whitbread, that he had told a lie respecting Mr. Erskine's negotiations. He complained of the delay in investigation which had taken place under this insinuation. Mr. W. replied, that he had not had time to examine the documents; but would during the recess, and if he found himself wrong, would apologise.

The Prospero sailed from England April 16 for America, with despatches.

The Legislature of Maryland have incorporated a company for the purpose of building a bridge over the Susquehanna at Havre de Grace, with authority to raise 350,000 dollars.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania have incorporated companies for building a bridge over the Allegheny at Pittsburg, and over the Monongahela between Washington and Brownsville.

These are great objects, whose accomplishment will conduce eminently to the accommodation of the public.

Among the many useful charitable institutions which embellish the city of New York, the Freeschool society stands not the least pre-eminent. In addition to the numerous children who receive through their exertions a gratuitous and useful education, they have lately erected a building for the accommodation of the institution: It is of brick, 120 feet of length and 40 feet broad. Col. Rutgers, a venerable revolutionary patriot, has presented them with another lot of ground in the eastern part of the city, limiting them to build thereon within a certain period, which they are about to accomplish.

In addition to their education last winter, these otherwise children of penury and distress were furnished with 305 garments, 151 pair of shoes, 274 pair of stockings, 121 girl's hats, 31 cotton handkerchiefs, and nine pair of woollen gloves. Their expenditures during the last year, amounted to 16129 dollars, 57 cents or which 1465 dollars, 24 were expended for the new building, leaving a deficit of 963 dollars 54 cents. This institution presents a proud monument of example to her sister cities in the United States. General diffusion of knowledge is the grand bulwark of American liberty. An enlightened multitude present the strongest possible barrier to the encroachment of arbitrary power. Of this institution De Witt Clinton, Esq. is President, John Murray, Junr. Vice President, Leonard Bleecker, Treasurer, and B. D. Perkins, Secretary. In this Seminary, as well as in about 20 others in the United States the Lancasterian system of education is adopted.—Amer.

CURIOUS, BUT JUST!!

One effect of federal "insurgency," has been the condemnation of several vessels from Massachusetts, in the courts of Denmark. Such was the fate of the Pacific from Salem: it was urged, that "Massachusetts, the state to which Salem appertains, had denied their government, and were declared REBELS—of course, the papers of the Pacific could not be legal."

TO THE ELECTORS OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

FELLOW CITIZENS,—It is with extreme regret that I feel myself impelled by the turpitude of some secret enemies, to appear in this manner before you, and endeavor to arrest unfounded reports, insidiously circulated with evident intention to affect my moral character, and thereby deprive me of the suffrages of many of you, at the approaching election.

Merereports, altho' ever so improbable, will often for a time, eclipse the fairest character.—Few take the trouble of investigating those in which they feel no immediate interest; and by a native supineness, admit their truth, if they are permitted to circulate uncontradicted, by the person against whose character they operate.

The reports to which I have reference are: First.—That on the application of one of the legates of Patrick McCullough dead, who had travelled all the way from Ireland for his legacy, I (the sole executor) refused to pay him any part, and that he was obliged to return home without a cent off.—Secondly,—That the real estate of said McCullough is escheatable to the commonwealth, notwithstanding which, I keep possession of it to the injury of the community.

I declare both those reports utterly false, and the following statement literally & unequivocally true.—James McCullough is the only legate who has ever applied for a legacy; to him I paid not only the whole of the money in my hands, (or which could possibly have come to my hands by any legal means) and to which he was entitled, but forty-seven dollars and sixty-six cents more than he was entitled to; to be deducted from money not then due, and to be afterwards by me collected.—His attested receipt is in my possession, and may be seen by any who choose to apply.—Patrick McCullough has at least 8 or 10 first cousins in the U. States, who are natural born citizens; consequently no escheat can possibly happen.—Mr. Lewis Sanders of Lexington is privy to all the circumstances, and will vouch for the truth of the above statement.

Those who have aided in circulating either of the above reports, will in justice to their honesty and candor, apply to Mr. Sanders; and if he corroborates my statement, immediately endeavor to remove the impressions such reports may have unjustly made.

I am the public's

Obedient Servant,

FOR THE KENTUCKY GAZETTE.

LYCURGUS, No. VII.

FELLOW CITIZENS—In order to confirm my opinions with respect to the reputation to which the lawyer is justly entitled, it will be necessary to extend the consideration of the profession of the clergy through another number.

I wish this profession to understand that I am not its enemy, but that my regard for truth is such that every other consideration must yield.

It has been a very popular objection to the lawyer, that he is the mere creature of money, that mercenary & avaricious motives uniformly govern him. With all due deference to the clerical order, permit me to remark that they are perhaps as much under the influence of mercenary motives as any other class of people. And another thing, they uniformly in public declaim against worldly mindedness, and the love of gain, and in private life pursue it dictates with as much zeal as any profession.

If the clergyman is not well paid, he don't preach; if the lawyer is not well paid he will not advocate a cause; the difference in this respect is greatly in favor of the lawyer; he publicly and openly avows money to be the grand stimulus; the clergyman publicly avows money not to be his object, yet from his conduct in private life, we are compelled to disbelieve his avowal. There can be no doubt of the integrity and sincerity of many of the clergy, but we too often find religion and the professions of the clergy the dernier resort of villany; after a man has performed the grand round of depravity & finds himself an outcast in society, when he discovers that even villains themselves hold him in utter contempt, his next movement is to become a clergyman of some denomination. If real penitence impelled such a course, it would not in my view be reprehensible;

But when religion and clerical orders are to be made the aids of policy, to raise depravity and vice to the level of transcendent virtue, I am for treating such profession with contempt.

This order of men have hitherto by their repulsive austerity, deterred the people from enquiry into their conduct—to speak freely on the subject of the clergy, ensured a man's loss of standing in society, such have been the consequences of a bigoted prejudice of the people in favor of parsons; and thus have they been enabled to practice the most outrageous acts of tyranny and of oppression in the world.

Witness the clergy of England—many of them assumed the prerogative of de-throning temporal majesty, and even of regulating legislation itself.

The prejudices of the people being always enlisted in their favor, it was a matter of no great difficulty with them to accomplish many sinister views. Suspicion dare not be entertained, and even acts of fraudulent oppression, attested by ocular proof could not be credited. The sanctity of the garb under which such acts have been committed, have always sanctified them; and oppression & fraud practiced by a clergyman, some people would contend, were acts of rigid virtue. Such implicit confidence reposed in any class of men is of dangerous tendency: designing men discover it, and make it the cloak of their iniquities. Freedom of enquiry, and facility of approach, promote the cause of truth in a very great degree. This forbidding countenance assumed by many divines, tends to the suppression of enquiry, no man can willingly come in contact with men, whose every appearance seems to proclaim the propriety of standing aloof; it is by an intimate and social intercourse that candid truth will make its appearance. This monkish austerity savors of hypocrisy, this sanctified exterior is ominous of sinister design. I cannot conceive why this great reserve, and studied demureness of countenance, is essential to the happiness of man. Should we not rather presume, that an open, liberal and facetious countenance, was indicative of more genuine happiness? All those preachers who have taken to the profession merely to accomplish some private views, and whose consciences have long since bid adieu to the compunctions of remorse, will assume this terrific sanctity; it is by their acts elude the vigilance of the people, and do not receive that investigation which is essential to their proper degree of estimation; it is by it the sway of their empire is maintained. Leave man untrammelled by bigoted prejudice and vice, immorality and oppression will effect their own destruction.

There exists a bickering among the various denominations which demonstrates the effects of hypocritical envy, each party wishing to rise upon the ruined empire of its neighbor. There can be no greater proof of the existence of vicious and depraved conduct among the members of any profession, than their secret slanders and invidious insinuations against each other. Every denomination believes that those who differ with them in matters of opinion, are entitled to kind of toleration; infamy is attached to them in every shape, they view each other as two contending rivals struggling for the ascendancy—embracing every opportunity to weigh down by obscure insinuations, the interests of each other. Such is the conduct of a great portion of this holy profession. Every man's experience teaches him that there are in all professions very unworthy professors—that the love of popularity destroys many independence, and occasions the most abandoned sacrifices of sensibility and principle.

I have thought it necessary to say this much with respect to the conduct of the clergy, as I have attested it by observation. I now leave you fellow citizens, from these few imperfect remarks to be decided between the Lawyer and Divine.

LANCASTER, JUNE 2.

Remarkable Occurrence. On Wednesday morning last, 4 Wagoners were travelling along the road through the east end of the farm of Amos Slaymaker, Esq. about 14 miles from this place, at the time a thunder-storm was passing over. Of the 4 teams, 14 horses were killed by the lightning. In the first, belonging to a Mr. Wimer, near Chickies, 5 were killed; and 3, in each of the others. Three of the saddle horses were killed under their Drivers, who received no injury from the lightning: but one of them was hurt by the falling of his horse. The saddle horse of the fourth Driver, on which he rode, escaped.

The thunder resembled the firing of cannon, and the peals were, in succession, about as quick as the usual discharges of a single field-piece.

Extract from THE DAY, (a London Paper.)

'We are extremely sorry to state, that advice has been received from Cadiz of a very unpleasant nature. An English frigate entered the harbour of Cadiz, with instructions to impress all the British seamen to be found there, for the purpose, it is supposed of manning the Oporto Fleet, and bringing them home. The number of seamen found were not deemed sufficient for this service, and in consequence, an indiscriminate impressment took place; ALL THE AMERICAN VESSELS were completely stripped of their crews, after some resistance! A Lieutenant of the frigate had a very serious rencontre with one of the American captains, who is arrived in England, for the purpose of exhibiting his complaint to Mr. Plunkney, the Minister of the United States.'

As the OFFICIAL Paper of the administration talks of 'DIGNIFIED MODERATION,' will not our citizens when they read this relation, be more disposed to transpose the words—and rather say, that we are 'moderately dignified'—But it is useless to complain. Ed. Reporter.

The Albany Register tells of an electioning trick. A good federalist in the city, to create a voter, gave a poor man a deed of land, worth several hundred dollars. After the election, the owner of the land demanded the deed; but the man had turned it into cash, and sold it for 400 dollars.

The American Mercury observes, that this year Timothy will probably have leave to hang up his fiddle.

P. BEDARD esq. who is imprisoned at Quebec, charged with seditious conduct, has since his confinement, been re-elected a member of the provincial parliament! Are his constituents sure of his innocence, or do they mean to compliment his offence?

A list of the new elected members of assembly of Lower Canada, (50) has been published in the Quebec papers. By the names, more than three quarters of which, are French Canadians.—One of these (P. Bedard, mentioned above) lately arrested for sedition, is again returned.

A charge delivered to the Grand Jury, at the commencement of the June term of the Fayette Circuit court, by SAMUEL E. WATSON, Attorney at law; at the request of Judge Monroe. (Published by request of the Grand Jury.)

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY,

I have not the arrogance to presume that any thing, which I could deliver to you in charge, would be matter of instruction. Of your intelligence and superior qualifications, I am fully aware, and on the subject of your duty I presume you are sufficiently advised; it is therefore merely to remind you of some of the leading principles of right which should govern you in the capacity, in which you are now contemplated presently to act, that renders it at all necessary for a charge to be delivered. The faithful discharge of the duty which now involves upon you in the capacity of Grand Jurors, is of as absolute importance, as any which could fall to your lot in the social state. To preserve in energetic purity our system of government, (to obtain which the bravest blood of the nation has been shed) ought, in all situations to be the grand object of every member of the community; but it now becomes your peculiar province to stand as the grand bulwark of civil liberty—as the shield and protection of self-approving innocence from iniquitous oppression—as the great constitutional guardians of the rights of the citizen and those of the commonwealth. Respect for the laws and institutions of our country, never can be maintained, but by an unequivocal adherence to their prescriptions, and a rigid and impartial execution of the same. Whenever we in a solitary instance depart from this course to screen a favorite from the denounced penalty of the law, a door is opened for the admission of disorganizing principles, which cannot fail in their consequences, eventually to sap the very foundation of our government. It is then the licentious demagogue can, by merely enlisting the public sympathy in his cause, trample with perfect impunity on the laws of his insulted and degraded country. The gewgaws of opulence and splendor, too often divert our attention from the rich man's cause, and the objects of penury and want too frequently excite our commiseration in such a manner as to disqualify us for the proper discharge of our duty towards them. This manifestation of partiality, obviously tends to the suppression of that warmth of attachment, which honest and orderly citizens are always disposed to cherish for the laws of their country.

The character of an officious and voluntary informer has always been viewed as detestable and deemed odious; obvious intrusion always injures the cause it intends to favor, and thus the cause of the commonwealth in many instances, would not receive that impartial and unprejudiced adjudication, to which strict justice extends her demand. At the very idea of voluntary degradation, the mind of man revolts; and to this the wise framers of our government have had a special regard, and have held out no kind of inducement, but unqualified contempt, to this base prostituted character. It has too much the appearance of gratification at the overthrow of another, ever to meet the approbation of dignified, honorable, and honest sentiments. Wise then, is the legal provision in our code, which makes it the sworn duty of Grand Jurors, to take cognizance of all violations of the penal law, which comes under their immediate observation, enabling them to arrest the progress of venality and corruption whenever a clue can be ascertained, by which their windings through the labyrinths of vice can be traced and exposed to public penalty.—You are the great conservators of public morality; the first guardians of vice, should therefore, be a prelude to its suppression, and then its future appearances would be rendered less frequent. That government in which vice and immorality find a protection from public exposure, never can be of long duration; where public functionaries connive at legal transgression, an increased repetition of crime will necessarily be the consequence; offences committed with impunity in minor affairs, universally lead to the commission of the most nefarious outrages on those constitutional principles which are the fundamental support of our government; the daring, dark and unfeeling assassin, and the midnight incendiary, that fiend of woe, no doubt commenced their progress in the commission of crimes, by experiment in those smaller affairs of vice, and every act of criminality perpetrated with impunity, emboldened them in their future progression until they finally arrive at that point, where humanity affrighted forever deserted them. A timely interposition of those whose duty it is always to be on the watch tower, might have distracted them from the paths of vice and immorality, and taught them that the practice of virtuous conduct can only secure to us and our posterity, that portion of liberty we now so eminently enjoy.

We live under a government of which we can, with propriety, boast as unparalleled in the world for equal and benign laws; it is also our peculiar boast, that we are governed by laws and not by men; you can therefore easily perceive the importance of a rigid and impartial adherence to the law, as the support of our government depends upon the degree of respect we attach to it. You need not be informed that the law which is daily violated with impunity, must soon lose that respect and reverence it ought to command, and to which in principle, it maybe justly intitled. The man who once permits a ruffian scoundrel to insult and buffet him with impunity and without making proper resistance, ensures a speedy and an increased repetition of the injury; but if he in the first instance make manly resistance and then let it be understood that condign punishment will be the consequence of future insult and injury, the remainder of his life will be spent in tranquillity and peace; thus it is with respect to the administration of the laws—make the voluntary infraction of a law, and appropriate punishment, commutable terms in the practice of our government, and crime will almost cease to exist. But Grand Jurors should proceed in the discharge of their official duties with great precaution and deliberation; clear and unequivocal proof should be evinced, before a party be called publicly to answer a charge at the bar of his country. Such is the nature and tendency of public opinion, that if a man be once publicly charged with having committed a crime, however innocent in truth, his case may turn out, the people will indulge a presumption of his guilt, when they reflect that he is a character to whom suspicion has been publicly attached, they will ever afterwards view him as a disgraced villain; his reputation standing in society is consequently lost, and in such a situation he had far better never have existed. You ought, therefore, to disregard remote probabilities and light presumptions; "presume innocence until guilt is proved," is a leading principle of humanity, and which our laws, with great propriety have adopted.

There are certain species of offences which demand your most scrutinizing vigilance; such are all felonies, breaches of the peace, tipplinghouses, duelling, gaming, and profane swearing.

The very existence of society is endangered by the perpetration of felonious offences, humanity shudders at the very idea of one human being, deliberately and maliciously striking another from the list of temporal existence. Breaches of the peace produce consequences extremely dangerous to the happy enjoyment of society; in those public commotions and civil broils, the prolific seeds of party spirit and violence are sown, and the most discordant passions and rankling malice, to which infuriate rage give impulse are, excited to action. Tipplinghouses, those sinks of corruption and vice, should be the particular objects of your animadversions; in such places the most disorderly, vicious and depraved habits which disgrace intelligent beings, are contracted—They are the black fountains of corruption, from the foul emanations of which public morality is contaminated. Duelling, that crime of custom denounced in unfeeling terms by the law, of both God and man, yet prevalent, should be the subject of your very particular attention. The fatality of its consequences are well known; the unprotected widow too often bears lamentable testimony on this subject, tender and helpless infants too often experience the loss of indulgent, protecting parents, and our country councils too often experience the loss of transcendent abilities, from the dire consequences of this practice of desperation and madness. Gaming, another practice universally deprecated, and as much followed, requires your attention; the many instances of desperation and horror which result from the pursuit of this practice, sufficiently evince to you the absolute necessity of a rigid application of the laws on the subject. Profane swearing, a still more generally prevalent vice, demands your severest animadversions; it is a custom calculated to destroy that reverence & respect, which should be attached to divine institutions, without which our existence in society would be attended with difficulties which would in themselves render abortive its great plans of happiness. The destruction of private confidence among men, is the consequence of this practice, and it is likewise in an eminent degree, destructive of those salutary effects intended to be produced by the legal administration of an oath. Habits of this kind were they not positively denounced both by the divine and municipal law, by their injurious consequences in society, demand strict repression.

There are other subjects of penal offences, which although they are not so immediately connected with the promotion of public morality, yet the policy of our country and the substantial interests of society require, that they should be observed. Such are the offences of obstructing the public highway, and such establishments as tend to the injury of the community or the molestation of individuals in the free enjoyment of their social rights. In a commercial country it is of great importance that high-ways should be kept in good repair, it facilitates the progress of commercial institutions and tends greatly to the convenience of private intercourse. Those whose duty it is to survey and have kept in proper repair our public highways, ought therefore to be attended to with strictness, and the performance of their duty vigilantly compelled.

BRISTOL RACES.

The races at Bristol last week were rendered uncommonly interesting by the appearance of two particular horses upon the turf the 2d day, to run 4 mile heats.

Those horses were the celebrated horse from Norfolk, Sir Solomon, owned by Mr. Badger, and Hampton, owned by Mr. Bond, both Philadelphia gentlemen of celebrity in the sporting world.

It seems that Mr. Hampton, the former owner of Hampton then called Hickory, having a little altercation with Mr. Badger, who had him in keeping, refused to sell him to him at any price, (having first asked 1,500 dollars, which was rejected) but sold him to Mr. Bond his present owner, for 1000, who in compliment named him Hampton. On which Mr. Badger declared he would procure a horse to beat him, let the price be what it might, and sent down to Norfolk after Sir Solomon, a horse which had so easily beat every thing in that country, and performed so astonishingly against time, that his owner, a Mr. Bush, challenged the U States to run for 10,000 dollars, which challenge was published in all the newspapers. This horse Mr. Badger bought and gave 3,900 dollars for him. Against him Mr. Bond entered Hampton at the Bristol races, backing him for about 600 dollars. There was much betting on the ground before starting, and the race was most interesting. Sir Solomon took the lead and kept it with little variation till the coming in the last heat, when Hampton run up to him at the distance pole, passed him and beat him by a neck—both coming in under the whip. The second heat very nearly resembled the first in every particular, and thus the pride of Virginia was vanquished. Both horses are now at Powles Hook, and will run to-morrow for the purse. The next week they will run at Harlaem.

N. Y. E. Post.

The editor of the Evening Post exultingly exclaims in the above paragraph, that the "pride of Virginia, is vanquished"—alluding to the victory gained by Hickory over Sir Solomon.

What will he say when he is informed that both Sir Solomon and Hickory are Virginia Horses?—which is the fact.—The latter was raised by the deceased Collier Harrison of Charles City county, and ran for many years at New Market and other courses.—The editor ought to have been better informed ere he made so broad an assertion.—Petersburg Intelligencer.

NEW-YORK, MAY 15.

POWLES HOOK RACES.

Yesterday the Jockey Club Purse, 4 mile heats, was run for over the Powles Hook course, (if it may be so called) by Mr. Bond's gray horse Hampton, against Mr. Badger's bay horse Sir Solomon. The well known speed of both horses had awakened curiosity and raised expectation to a high pitch. The first heat Sir Solomon took the lead at the start, and kept it till the last quarter of the 4th mile, when Hampton made a dash at him on a rising piece of ground, passed him and beat him about a length. Second heat Sir Solomon took the lead again, and both horses hand galloped around the course in a beautiful style, and much to the amusement and satisfaction of the spectators, until they came to the last quarter, when Hampton run up to Sir Solomon as before, on the same spot of ground, passed him, both horses under the whip, and beat him by about half a neck.—This heat was run in the remarkable short space of thirteen minutes, some say twelve.!!

It was remarked by some that they should have been far better pleased if the rider of Hampton, had not, as they thought unwarrantably crowded Sir Solomon, while both were at the top of their speed on rising ground, the last quarter of a mile in the last heat.

There will be a BARBACUE at Harrogate on Thursday next, the 21st inst. to which my friends are respectfully invited.

TICKLE TOBY,

WILL stand this season in Lexington and let to mares at the moderate price of twenty dollars the single leap, to be paid at the stable door, forty dollars the season payable 25th December, which may be discharged by the payment of thirty dollars by the first day of August next, and fifty dollars to ensure a colt. Where a person puts more than one mare, a young gelding will be received in payment at the real value. Pasturage gratis, and the greatest attention paid to mares, but no responsibility for accidents or escapes.

TICKLE TOBY is a fine brown, or dark bay, near sixteen hands high, justly formed, and possessing great muscular powers with remarkable fine feet and legs.

JOHN P. WAGNON.

April 16th, 1810.

PEDIGREE & PERFORMANCE.

Taken from the General Stud Book of England, and also certified by John Hutchinson Esq. who bred him.

TICKLE TOBY by Alfred, one of the best sons of old Matchem, who covered the last nine years of his life at 50 guineas the season; his dam Celia—by King Heed out of Prosper—A full sister to Col O'Kelly's famous Eclipse by Marske—who covered at 200 guineas each mare the season which may be seen in the Sporting Magazine for 1793 page 212.

At York August meeting, the first time he started he won a sweepstake of 200 guineas each (8 subscribers,) beating Mr. Bullock's Toby, Mr. Farrer's Telescope, and Mr. Pierce's Enchanter. He also won the 70 guineas at Lincoln, beating Sir F. Poole's Monitor, and Mr. Browner's Put. At York spring meeting, he won the stand plate, beating Mr. Dods-worth's Abba-Thuelle, Col. Ratcliffe's Mouse-trap, and Mr. Garforth's Herald. The day following he won 50, for all ages, beating Colonel Ratcliffe's Pigeon, Lord A. Hamilton's Brother to Restless, and Sir W. Vavasour's Hope. The York August meeting following, he won the great subscription, (though five years old) for six years old and aged horses, beating Lord A. Hamilton's Walnut, Prince of Wales' Traveller, Mr. Wentworth's Gustavus, Mr. Baker's Cavendish, and the Duke of Norfolk's Dubskeeper—This was universally allowed to be one of the finest races ever run, and the only time Walnut was ever beat. Tickle Toby won the 70 guineas at Lincoln, beating Lord Scarborough's Valiant, and Mr. Willis's Liberty. He won the corporation plate at Doncaster, carrying 4 lbs. extra, beating Mr. Garforth's Canilla, and Lord Scarborough's Valiant, which was the only time he run that year. The York spring meeting following, he won the stand plate, beating Mr. Garforth's famous mare Rosalind. The August meeting he walked over for the king's plate, and won the great subscription for six years old and aged horses, beating Mr. Wentworth's Tammerlane, Lord A. Hamilton's Walnut drawn. He won 50 guineas at Kelso, beating Mr. Band's Rattler. The York spring meeting following, he received 50 guineas forfeit from Sir W. Maxwell's Scorpion, four miles, at 12 stone each. The August meeting, he again won the great subscription for six years old and aged horses, beating Mr. Wentworth's Hubly, Lord A. Hamilton's Restless, Mr. Hutchinson's Over-ton, and Mr. Baker's Cavendish. He also won the 100 guineas at Dumfries, beating Gustavus, and 50 guineas at Kelso, beating Mr. Barro's Louisa at one heat. The year following he won the corporation plate at Chester, beating Mr. Lord's Mulespinner and Mr. Wray's Grog, and 50l. at Newton, beating Mr. Lother's Minus, allowing him 25lb.—And the 100gs. at Newcastle upon Tyne beating Mr. Baird's Lucy, Mr. Pearce's Rosamond and Lord Tyrconnell's Hermes—He also won the gold cup at Chester, beating Lord Donnegill's Joe Andrews, Mr. Taylor's Helmet, Mr. Tatton's Betsey, and Mr. Rathbode's Tommy—and also received the premiums at several places, no horses entering against him.

In 1807, Sir Solomon, son of Tickle Toby, 2 years old, walked over the Norfolk old course for the colt sweepstake of 100 dolls each, two mile heats. At three years old he won at one heat the first Jockey club purse of 400 dolls four mile heats, over the new course, No folk. He afterwards won the great match against Mr. Winn's famous horse Gallatin by Diomed, 4 mile heats, beating him between 2 and 300 yards and was never put up. Hewas matched against Mr. Ball's celebrated Florizel by Diomed, to run the first Tuesday in May, 1809, agreeable to the Newmarket rules, over the old course, Norfolk, 4 mile heats, for 10,000 dollars, which was declined by the friends of Florizel. Sir Solomon then challenged Mr. Burr. Wilks's horse Potomac by Diomed, or any other amount, agreeable to the Newmarket rules, which may be seen by a reference to the Norfolk, Petersburg, Richmond and Baltimore papers.

Sir Solomon has since beat the famous horse Wrangler by Diomed a match of four miles for 5,000 dollars.

CALEB ROUSH.

At the expiration of the season which will be on the tenth of July, Tickle Toby will be removed to Bairdstown and permitted to go to ten mares in the fall.
